

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary is a democratic outrage. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. This move is obviously an effort to keep a Bush administration in power that is pro-media-consolidation. Sinclair is acting on their own profit motives, not for the good of the public.

It is also unhealthy that some viewers may see this "documentary" as a news-oriented broadcast, not a partisan propaganda effort. This misconception will prove very dangerous on the eve of a national election. Thank you.
